

CHECK IT OUT!

by James Connolly

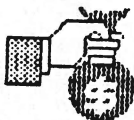

Welcome to Hope School's new newspaper entitled HIT OR MISS which was dreamed up by, the people that bring you HIT OR MISS, the eighth grade. This paper will keep you up to date on the things happening in school, or maybe things out of school. Some things such as the olympics, the government, etc.

CHAPEL OFFERING

by Erica Christensen

This quarter's chapel offering is going to Grant-In-Aid. This means that people who can't afford to send their children here can still do so. Hopefully you will remember to bring your offering this Thursday, it's going to a good cause. Remember every little bit counts.

TIME TO HIT THE BOOKS

by Erica Christensen

School just started. Time to buy your school supplies and time to hit the books. Some school activities have also started or will start. The first Girl Scout meeting began September 14. Swimming also began last week. Band has started for those of you who are interested in playing an instrument. Poms poms, cheerleading, soccer, and volleyball practices have also started. So do your best, and be the greatest you can be.

SPORTS NOW

by James Connolly

This area of the paper is dedicated to Hope School Sports. Recently soccer and volleyball have started.

The volleyball team has had their first game already. They played Ashburn A. Unfortunately, they lost all three games. They had their second game Thursday against Ashburn B.

The soccer team is having their first game today. They will be playing Gloria Dei after school in Marquette Park. Let's get the season off to a good start.

MYSTERY!

by Nate Cahill

In this section of the paper, each week there will be a mystery. The answer to the mystery will not be given until the next issue after the mystery.

After reading the mystery, if you think that you know the answer, write on a sheet of paper your name, your grade, and your answer. Put your answer in your classroom's newspaper box, and label it "Mystery". If you have the right answer, your name will be listed in the newspaper.

Now, for this week's mystery.....

"Mr. Krause, Mr. Krause! Here's some mail for you," said Mrs. Wong, Mr. Krause's maid. "Mr. Krause, Mr. Krause, Mr. Krause!" I wonder if he's in his bedroom, Mrs. Wong thought to herself. She went into his bedroom, and then she realized that Mr. Krause had been kidnapped. She called the professor, and he came right over. He decided that the kidnapper was close. He went outside and looked around. He found three people, Mr. Fleabody, Mrs. Smith, and Mr. Johnson. First he asked Mr. Fleabody if he knew of a man named Ed Krause. Mr. Fleabody said he didn't know the man. Then the professor asked Mrs. Smith if she knew Ed Krause. Then the professor asked Mr. Johnson if he knew Ed Krause.

Mr. Johnson replied, "Let's see, Edward Krause. No, I don't know him."

"You'd better start telling me the truth, Mr. Johnson, before I get mad and decide to call the police," the professor said.

HOW DID THE
PROFESSOR KNOW THAT MR.
JOHNSON WAS LYING?

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

by Nate Cahill

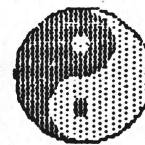

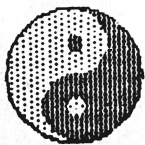

In each issue, I will interview either a teacher or new person in school. This section will list their vital statistics, favorite things, and much more. If you are a teacher or a new student who would like to be interviewed, write on a sheet of paper your name and your grade. Label the paper, "Getting to Know You," and put it in the newspaper box. I'll try to interview you.

KIDS SPEAK OUT!
